EDD delivers efficient services for workforce success

The Employment Development Department's (EDD) Workforce Services Program is one of the world's largest public employment service operations, with more than 100 locations throughout California.

The employers of California rely on the employment-related services provided by the EDD, as do more than one million job seekers, who register for services each year. Employment services are offered in person at the America's Job Center of CaliforniaSM (AJCC) locations, formerly known as One-Stop Career Centers, or online at www.caljobs.ca.gov.

CalJOBSSM, a no fee online labor exchange system, is available to job seekers and employers. For job seekers, CalJOBSSM lists thousands of open positions right at their fingertips. Using CalJOBSSM, employers can post unlimited job openings, access a large single source of qualified, job-ready candidates, and directly contact applicants.

The EDD provides an array of employment related services to the public including Unemployment Insurance, Disability Insurance, Paid Family Leave, and payroll tax collection. For more information on other programs and services, visit the EDD website.
